

Eden Garden Photos, 2019 and later

Here are a few of our favorite photos from the last few years.

Working in the garden

It's not really work when you're doing things you enjoy and interacting with great people.

The Harvest

A wide variety of produce is grown

The produce is weighed and recorded. Volunteers remove any damaged vegetables and fruit. The produce is then sorted into boxes for distribution.

Flowers are also grown and distributed with the produce

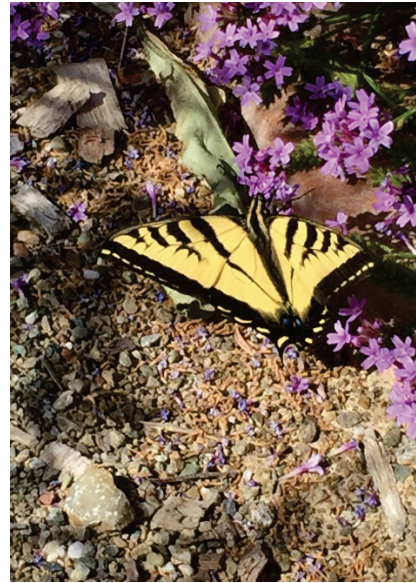

It's not all work!

Bringing in the pollinators

The pollinator garden and other plants bring pollinators to the veggie garden.

These sunflowers add outstanding color in the fall. When they start to die off they make excellent food for the birds.
